oosevelt Travels through Yosemite after Fleet Review

resident Lauds Navy as Powerful Defense Weapon at San Francisco, Thursday, Mentions Arms Cut

Praises Fairs

ief Executive Says Two Fairs Would Do Much to Promote Friendly Feeling

Aboard President Roosevelt's ship en route to Yosemite, Calif., July 15 (AP).—The navy claimed attention as a powerful naval defense weapon today under a spotlight focussed by President Roosevelt.

Speaking at Treasure Island in San Francisco Bay yesterday afternoon, the Chief Executive declared the fleet was "not merely a symbol" but "a potent, ready fact" in the defense set-up of this country.

Then a short while later, he was on the forward superstructure of the cruiser Houston while she came up and down a line of men-of-war.

Mr. Roosevelt made his declaration of the navy's potency simultaneously with a hint of United States' willingness to participate in arms reduction with the nations of the world.

Expressing hope that "other democratic nations" would realize their present course must inevitably lead them to disaster," said:

"We stand ready to meet them and encourage them in any efforts they may make toward a more reduction in world armament."

After the fleet review, in which every saluting battery in the made fired a 21-gun greeting to the President, he rested several hours aboard the Houston, en route for Yosemite National Park.

Leaving his train at Oakdale last night after a day in the San Francisco area, Mr. Roosevelt travelled overnight to El Dorado gateway to the park. He ranged a 250-mile motor trip through Yosemite's famed big forest.

On to Los Angeles

He will travel overnight to Los Angeles.

The Chief Executive, greeted San Francisco and its suburbs wildly cheering thousands, received no applause on his disappearance.

Distinguished Californians, including Senators McAdoo, Damato, and Johnson, Republican, and Governor Merriam, cheered words about a powerful navy but did not stir when he announced the government was ready to take part in an arms reduction move.

The theme of Mr. Roosevelt's speech—delivered slowly and firmly in a crescent hall of the San Francisco Exposition administration building—was peace.

He expressed the view that both the New York and San Francisco fairs next year would do much to promote understanding—and, therefore, friendliness between the people of this and other lands.

Peace—Rejoicing

And, in concluding, he said: "The year 1939 would go down in history not only as the year of the two great American World's fairs, but would be a year of world-wide rejoicing if it could make definite steps toward permanent world peace."

McAdoo, who is seeking renomination for the Senate, sat to the President's right as he spoke.

The senator was the first California to greet Mr. Roosevelt when he arrived at Crockett yesterday morning.

McAdoo was waiting at the station when the President's train pulled in and soon after was called aboard for a conference in the President's private car.

A motorcycle escort and Chief Frear, Past Chief C. G. A. Fischer, and Mayor William S. Doyle will lead the parade which will be Chief Executive when he reviewed the fleet.

At The End Of A Record-Breaking Flight

Fire Volunteers Converging Upon Ellenville Today

Head of Globe Expedition Allows Nothing to Detract From Wiley Post's Triumph in 1933

—Tells of Hazards of Aerial Dash

By JOHN FERRIS

New York, July 15 (AP)—Howard Hughes and his four globe-circling companions rode triumphantly up lower Broadway today, from the Battery to City Hall, in the most tumultuous heroes' parade New York has held in a decade.

It was like a throwback to the days when Jimmy Walker was mayor, when Lindbergh first flew the Atlantic, Eddie conquered the English Channel, Byrd flew across the North Pole, and the canyons of the financial district echoed with cries of greeting to the intrepid airmen.

For seventeen minutes—the time it took the procession of cars to reach City Hall—downtown New York screamed its praise for the multimillionaire Texas sportsman and his mates and showered the men with ticker tape, torn telephone books, old stationery, letters and newspapers.

Five years ago today, some of them might have remembered, the town was in something of the same state of mind as Wiley Post's Winnie Mac roared down to a landing at Floyd Bennett Field to hang up a record of 7 days, 18 hours and 49 minutes which stood until Hughes broke it yesterday.

Two Killed, 5 Hurt Near Wurtsboro In Bus-Car Crash

Two men were killed and five others injured, one of them so seriously that death is expected, when a car containing four men skidded around a turn and crashed into a Yelloway bus which was being run as an extra between Ellenville and Wurtsboro, about 1:40 Thursday afternoon.

Edward Rossman, 25, of 75 Evergreen avenue, Brooklyn, who was injured in the accident, was reported at 12:25 p. m. today by Horton Memorial Hospital in Middletown, as still living, but his condition is critical. Rossman has a badly fractured skull and other injuries.

A motorcycle escort and Chief Frear, Past Chief C. G. A. Fischer, and Mayor William S. Doyle will lead the parade which will be Chief Executive when he reviewed the fleet.

Taylor Pleads for Refugees

Evian-Les-Bains, France, July 15 (AP)—Myron C. Taylor, chairman of a 32-nation conference on the refugee problem, pleaded with Germany today to let her refugees take their personal belongings.

Taylor, head of the American delegation, at the final session of the 10-day meeting called by President Roosevelt termed German cooperation "vital and imperative" in the plan of finding homes for perhaps 300,000 Jews and other prospective refugees to be successful.

The intergovernmental conference will pass the job of helping refugees' new homes on to a permanent committee which is to be in London August 3.

Declaring that the Evian conference was "merely a beginning" a plan to help expatriates, Taylor added, "our work must and will continue tirelessly without interruption in order that the hopes of men, women and children who have placed their faith in our efforts may not be dispelled and their sufferings embittered."

The American said he wished to emphasize again that "unless steps are taken forthwith to remedy the present disorderly exodus, there is catastrophic human suffering ahead which might have far-reaching consequences in international unrest and strain."

Earl Winterbottom, chief British delegate, dashed hopes that Britain might allow mass immigration to Palestine but disclosed a special survey was being made for possible small-scale immigration to the Kenya Colony, East Africa.

Britain, he said, considered as "wholly untenable" the idea that the Jewish problem could be solved if "the gates of Palestine were thrown open."

Battle Tide Shifts For Defense Units In Spain, China

By The Associated Press

The tide of battle shifted today to the advantage of defense forces in both China and Spain.

The Japanese drove up the Yangtze river toward Hankow, temporary Chinese capital, appeared stalled. Still below Kiukiang, 135 miles from Hankow, the Japanese have made no marked advance for three days and Chinese insist they have been stopped.

The Chinese high command in Hankow declared 45 Japanese war vessels had been sunk or badly damaged in the past two weeks.

Although these figures could not be confirmed, it was fairly well established that Chinese air forces recently have damaged several Japanese craft and some have been observed being towed down the river.

Sifted resistance of government forces in eastern Spain compelled insurgents, striking eastward toward Valencia and the Mediterranean coast, to widen their front.

Reinforcements rushed up by Defense Commander General Jose M. M. apparently had halted insurgent frontal attacks.

In the Espadan mountains north of Valencia, government troops recaptured important positions before insurgents had time to consolidate them.

The Japanese cabinet's decision to cancel plans for holding the 1940 Olympics at Tokyo made final the announcement of Marquis Koshiro Kido, welfare minister, that Japan would not be host to the international games.

Myron C. Taylor, chairman of the 32-nation conference on the refugee problem and head of the United States delegation to the conference at Evian-Les-Bains, France, urged Germany to let refugees to take personal belongings with them.

He called German cooperation "vital and imperative" if the plan of finding homes for perhaps 300,000 Jews and other prospective refugees were to succeed.

Taylor spoke at the final session of the conference. A permanent committee, to meet in London next month, will carry on the conference's work.

Rain, Gale Leave Havoc Along East Coast Area Today

By The Associated Press

A lasting rainstorm and gale-like winds left a trail of havoc along the Middle Atlantic seaboard today.

Racing across southeastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and the eastern shore of Maryland, the storm, accompanied by lightning, flooded scores of homes, scattered fishing boats, sheltered, ripped off roofs, uprooted trees and damaged corn fields and orchards.

Within about a quarter of an hour, the disturbance cut a swathe through a section of Monmouth County, New Jersey. Mayor Walter J. Sweeney of Seabright estimated the damage in his town, including the clean-up cost, at $100,000.

Trees in nearby Red Bank, N. J., were uprooted, blocking off nearly a score of streets. Train service on the Sandy Hook branch of the Central Railroad of New Jersey was disrupted for two hours, and a row of wooden bath houses was blown over at Seabright.

A bakery truck going along the main street at Seabright was turned completely around and overturned, a garage was lifted from its foundation without even scratching the automobile inside, and $2,000 worth of merchandise assembled on the beach for a firemen's fair was blown out to sea.

In Delaware, the worst of the storm centered in the Milford-Houston area in Sussex county. Half the city of Milford was without electrical power for two hours. Several homes were struck by lightning.

In Pennsylvania, the storm blocked highways with fallen wires and branches, sent signs sailing and tore down hundreds of trees.

When they got to Paris a French mechanic found the break.

There was still another surmounting peril. The maps for the Siberian leg were incorrect and had been continued from Yakutsk, Siberia, at night as scheduled the big ship might have smashed against mountain peaks higher than the aerialists thought.

William Zucker, driver of the bus, sustained broken ribs, a leg injury and possibly internal injuries. Two passengers on the bus, Morris Altman and Albert Gilbert, complained of injuries, but ap-

Plan to Carve Out New Legislative Districts Would Affect Ulster

Ulster Would Have Two Assemblymen and Sullivan Would Be Placed in This Senatorial District

Albany, N. Y., July 15 (AP)—Constitutional convention Democrats generally, and Tammany Hall delegates in particular, gathered today for a "final fight" against a Republican-proposed plan for rewriting New York's legislative districts.

Convention spokesmen for an already clipped Tammany planned to fire the major blast, determined to prevent adoption of the formula which would further reduce the hall's power by slicing its Assembly representation from 23 to 16 and its Senate seats from nine to six.

Tammany, whose political power waned after Republican Fusion Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia whipped it twice in a row, is the major loser under the proposal which would increase the Senate membership from 51 to 53 and that of the Assembly from 150 to 153. Republican chieftains admit openly that the party hopes to increase representation in the Bronx, Queens and Kings counties, all of which would obtain additional seats, at the expense of Tammany.

Leading Tammany convention delegates include former Governor Alfred E. Smith, Max D. Steuer, Murray Stand, John T. Dooling and James B. McNally.

Two More Seats

The proposal to carve out new districts, first to be apportioned since 1917, would give counties within New York city two more seats for finding homes for perhaps 300,000 Jews and other prospective refugees.

He called German cooperation "vital and imperative" if the plan of finding homes for perhaps 300,000 Jews and other prospective refugees were to succeed.

Taylor spoke at the final session of the conference. A permanent committee, to meet in London next month, will carry on the conference's work.

New York city's Senate representation would be increased from 23 to 24½ seats and that of upstate from 28 to 28½. Queens would gain two districts, the Bronx and Kings each one and Richmond one-half, leaving a net gain of one and one-half seats with Tammany's three-seat loss.

Queens county would gain five seats and Bronx four under the formula, giving New York city a net gain of two, with Nassau obtaining two more districts and Westchester Chemung, Jefferson, Onondaga and Ulster each one. The only upstate county to lose representation would be Oneida, reduced from three to two.

New York city's Senate representation would be increased from 23 to 24½ seats and that of upstate from 28 to 28½. Queens would gain two districts, the Bronx and Kings each one and Richmond one-half a district.

The girl victim was Laura Farrel, 14, niece of General Giuseppe Valle, undersecretary of aviation.

One of the men told him, the coroner said, that a spark jumped from the cable as DeGroat touched it.

Current Generated at Plant

All current used at the plant of the company is locally generated. Mr. DuBois said he learned in his investigation that the normal voltage there is 110. DeGroat, according to information received by the coroner from the workmen, was standing on a platform at the time.

Dr. George W. Ross, of Port Jervis, was called and one of the workmen summoned the emergency truck of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Company in which DeGroat was taken to the Kingston Hospital. At the hospital it was soon determined that the man was dead and Coroner DuBois was notified.

Six bodies were recovered from the sea last night by a torpedo boat.

Searchers Find Plane Wreckage

Rome, July 15 (AP)—Wreckage of an Italian airliner which plunged into the sea 70 miles off Sardinia carrying 20 persons to their deaths was found today by searching planes.

Victims of the biggest disaster in Italy civil aviation included six women and a girl among the 16 passengers and four crewmen.

The plane, "I-Volo" of the Alitalia Line, left Cagliari, Sardinia, for Rome yesterday.

The official report of the accident said the sea was blanketed by thick fog and blamed the disaster on "a forced landing without visibility."

The girl victim was Laura Farrel, 14, niece of General Giuseppe Valle, undersecretary of aviation.

The plane was piloted by Captain Giovanni Bracchini, veteran flier.

Funeral arrangements which were left temporarily in the charge of Coroner DuBois, it is expected, will be made some time this evening.

Henep Corp. Buys Sulpho-Sol Co.

The Henep Corporation of this city has purchased the Sulpho-Sol Co., 111 5th avenue, New York city. The Sulpho-Sol Co. sole owners and distributors of Colloidal Iodized Sulphur in capsule form, for the relief of arthritis, due to sulphur deficiency, has been conducting business for the past three years, their sales covering every state in the Union. During this time they have received hundreds of unsolicited testimonials from doctors and patients.

The proposal would require the Senate and Assembly lines to be drawn by boards of Supervisors in upstate counties and the board of estimate in New York city.

Chairman H. Duane Bruce of the convention's reapportionment committee, who announced the draft, said it would probably be voted out of committee to the floor on Monday night.

Meantime, 31 other convention committees strove to dispose of pending proposals before the deadline tonight for reporting measures to the floor for debate. The reapportionment committee has an extension until Tuesday, along with the judiciary group, and the rules committee will continue to function throughout the convention.

New York State Cruise Utica, N. Y., July 14 (AP)—Six hundred miles of cruising on waters or adjacent to New York is the vacation fun of Mr. and Mrs. Prentiss Bailey. In their 45 foot cruiser "Trident" they cruised from Clayton down the St. Lawrence River to the Richelieu River, Lake Champlain, the Champlain Canal, the Hudson River and thence through the Barge Canal to Utica. Then they started out again through the Barge Canal, Oneida Lake, Oswego Canal and Lake Ontario to Clayton.

Y.M.C.A. Camp Opens Monday

leg. Entertainments and camp fire programs will be in charge of Edward "Red" Senter and Mrs. E. T. Bookwalter. Mrs. Chester "Ma" Buley will be camp cook and she will be assisted by Oliver Haines.

Monday, July 18, 56 campers and staff members will enjoy their first camp fire and night in the open at the Y. M. C. A. Camp Preemaker at Glenorie Lake Park. Camp is in the best shape and has the best equipment it has enjoyed in some time. Every preparation has been carefully completed so that the program can start in full swing the first day.

A very competent staff and one that must certainly meet with the approval of the campers has been assembled by Elias T. Bookwalter, Boys' Work Secretary of the "Y." and director of the camp. Among the staff are "Sammy" Bird, of Albany, a Cornell student, as swimming instructor; Hamilton Boyd, of Kingston, a student in Albany Medical College, as camp doctor; Myron Abrams, a full-blooded Indian from the Oneida reservation, and who has scored such a big hit with the 4-H Club campers the past two weeks, as councilor of Indian lore and nature. Athletics will be handled by "Jackie" Meyers, of Kingston, and Ryder College. He will be assisted by Howard Quirk of Kingston, and Gettysburg Col-

No more registrations are being taken for the first week as the capacity of the camp has already been reached. There are still some places available in the other three weeks. Reservations are accepted in the order they are received up to capacity.

TRILLION-DOLLAR WAR

The cost of another world war, according to estimates of the War and Navy Department experts at Washington, would be about 1,000 billion dollars, more than three times the cost of the last war. That would be for equipment, property damage and loss to industry. The figures are based on the assumption of another four-years' war, involving all the major powers and many smaller ones.

Doubtless any general conflict, with present means of destruction and with human stubbornness and folly probably greater than ever, would bankrupt this poor old world. For its computable wealth can't add up to much more than a thousand billions now, and most of that is already mortgaged. Wealth, too, is largely bookkeeping—columns of figures supposed to represent realities—and it probably wouldn't be long until the bookkeepers quit in despair and let the printing presses take over the financial job.

What would be left then, when the fires of war had burned themselves out? The sun, moon and stars, plus a lot of devastated real estate and perhaps a dozen millions of human beings skulking around in the ruins for something to eat, and salvaging what they could from the wreckage of modern civilization. That is a good thing for dictators and war-makers to think about.

EASIEST TAX

There is one tax which does not seem to bother its payers at all. That is the tax on gasoline. According to reports made by the states to the Bureau of Public Roads, the greatest increase in gasoline use in the last two years has occurred in states with tax rates above the average.

In six states in which consumption exceeded a billion gallons each, the taxes are three and four cents a gallon. In twelve states gasoline consumption increased more than 10 per cent in 1937, and in ten of them the taxes ranged from four to seven cents. Such taxes naturally bring in large revenues. New York State, leading in both volume of sale and in tax receipts, netted nearly $62,000,000 from this source.

It is not strange that in many instances diversion of money from the gas tax fund has been sought for relief and emergency financing. It is possible that in some states not all the gas tax money is needed just now either for road maintenance or new construction. Where this is true, a good case can be made for reducing the tax or for using some of the receipts for other purposes, easing the burden of taxes that hit taxpayers harder.

HOW HITLER KEEPS 'EM BUSY

An American newspaper man, visiting Austria, tells how a Viennese citizen proved to him that Nazi Austria was going to be a better place to live in. "I have a relative who hasn't worked for four years," he said. "Last week he got a job. When he came home last Saturday he broke down and cried, because he was bringing his wife and family the first money he had earned in four years."

That was natural and human. He had a right to rejoice. But the reporter insisted on going farther into the situation and learning where the grateful Austrian was working and what he was doing. It developed that he was working in a textile factory, making army uniforms.

That is the way Hitler keeps the Germans and Austrians occupied—producing munitions and army supplies, drilling and doing other forms of military work. He has kept them alive and going so far, although from authentic reports there seems to be merely a bare subsistence for everybody, with Germany rapidly exhausting her natural resources and the national debt mounting to a height that may mean bankruptcy again in the near future.

FOREIGN MARKETS NEEDED

The importance of open world markets for staple American products is emphasized in an unusual statement by Peter Molynieux, Texas editor and lecturer, speaking to a college group on current affairs. He regards the world, and especially the United States, as

"up a blind alley" because of a closed foreign market.

Cotton is a good example of the way our farm crops are affected. Ten years ago about 60 per cent of the cotton consumed throughout the world was American. Lately the world has been taking only 40 per cent of our cotton. "When you cut off the market of any American producer," he says, "you cut off the markets of all American producers. Without a restoration of the foreign market, only half the present agricultural population of the cotton belt can maintain the accustomed standard of living, much less improve it. Despite expansion and employment which can reasonably be expected in the immediate future, the old cotton belt must plan for emigration. If the world market for cotton is permanently lost, it may become necessary for six or seven million persons to leave and seek employment in other parts of the country."

REFUGE IN BRAZIL

The conference of free nations in France, called at President Roosevelt's suggestion to see what could be done for political and racial refugees, is full of noble sentiments, but so far there have been few practical suggestions. Every representative condemns the persecution and exile inflicted by dictatorial governments, but all hesitate to commit their own countries to open doors.

The United States has taken the lead in this humanitarian work, by inviting exiles to this country, but such invitation is necessarily hedged about by legal requirements. Quotas for all foreign countries are limited by federal law, and the qualifications for immigrants are very strict. They must be in sound health, must have a clean moral record, must furnish assurance that they will not become dependent, and so on. At present this country seems to be opening its doors wider to the persecuted German Jews than to any other group, but the standing regulations can admit only a small fraction of those who want to come.

Possibly the best hope of refuge now in sight is in Brazil. At any rate, it is said that "the most encouraging word" at the opening of the conference came from the Brazilian delegate, who said the state of Sao Paulo might accept agricultural workers. Brazil, the biggest country in South America, and very sparsely settled, needs population. Another factor in the situation is that, according to recent reports, thousands of German settlers there are about to return to Germany. It would be a reasonable exchange.

Japan now has to keep right on conquering China, and gosh, how she dreads it

THAT BODY OF YOURS

By James W. Barton, M.D.

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act)

SEEK CAUSE OF SYMPTOMS—THEN USE HEAT OR OTHER MEASURES FOR RELIEF

I have always been a great believer in the application of heat to the body in any form—electric cabinet, diathermy, hot baths, electric blankets and other heat-giving methods. Heat stirs up congested parts, increases the circulation of the blood in the part and shortens the time for the removing of wastes.

I am also a believer in massage, the stretching of the joints of the spine and other joints. I believe that the medical profession as a whole would bring about quicker results for their patients by the use of these methods themselves or, in perhaps the majority of cases, supervising or directing this kind of work as far as possible in the hands of others.

The most important thought however in the treatment of these congested conditions—rheumatism or arthritis, sciatica, lumbago, myalgia or the old fashioned muscular rheumatism—is not the heat and mechanical treatment, helpful as it is, but to try to find the cause of the pain, stiffness and other symptoms.

There is no question but that taking Epsom salts or other purgatives to get rid of the products of infection from the bowel and the use of heat and medicines to the joints and muscles of the body to stimulate circulation and remove wastes is, as noted above, an excellent method of treatment. This treatment may be so effective in fact that despite infection being present, it can give the patient considerable relief from pain and other symptoms. But if the pain manufacturing the poison—teeth, tonsils, gall bladder or others—are removed, then no more infection would go into the blood to be carried to the affected joint, muscle or other tissue. Thus, as mentioned before, the factory making the poison would be closed and all time and effort could be spent in getting the products of the factory—poison—off the shelves of the body by means of small doses of laxative daily, and the heat, massage, passive movements or exercise, stretches and other mechanical means now available.

The point then is that all time and money spent for heat and mechanical treatments pays a good dividend but to try first to have any point of infection removed is just everyday common sense.

Vigor, vitality, vim and punch, the courage to act on a sudden hunch. The nerve to tackle the hardest thing, With feet that climb and hands that cling. And a heart that never forgets to sing! That's Pep!

Young Quaker—Martha, dost thou love me? Martha—Why, Seth, we are commanded to love one another. Young Quaker—Ah, Martha, but dost thou feel what the world calls love?

Monty is an old hand at weighing vogues and dealing with night-club commodities. Years ago he came out of the hobo camps to help put the speakeasies over. The Everglades club was one of his early ventures. When Repeal came he continued right along in the night-club line. He promoted them, just as he did other ventures, including a safari in the heart of the South American jungle by one of the Roosevelts.

Monty—I hardly know what to tell thee, Seth. I have tried to bestow my love upon all, but I have sometimes thought that perhaps thou wast getting more than thy share.

Don't think a man is a fool just because he is not educated. Some of the smartest men we ever knew had to take off their shoes and socks to count up to 20.

A Sunday school teacher was trying to impress her class of small boys with the omnipotence of the Deity.

Teacher—Junior, who gives you the clothing and shoes, and the cap you wore to Sunday school this morning?

Junior—President Roosevelt!

Teacher (nonplussed, but tried again)—Bobby, who gives you your meat, bread, milk and other things to eat?

Bobby—Secretary Wallace.

Teacher (confounded, but she didn't give up, yet fearing what might come)—Tommy, who gives you the sun, the stars and flowers?

Tommy—God.

At last the teacher smiled with gratification.

A little boy next to Tommy seized his sleeve saying: "Sit down, you dirty little Republican!"

To make flattery effective you must be somewhat insincere; for example, tell a homely girl that she's pretty.

Young Thing—The doctor told me such a funny thing.

Mother—What did he say?

Young Thing—He told me I had caught cold, and so come straight home, get dressed and go to bed.

The busier a man is the more loafers he seems to attract.

Two business men were talking about their employees:

First—Well, old Johnson has grown grey-haired in my service.

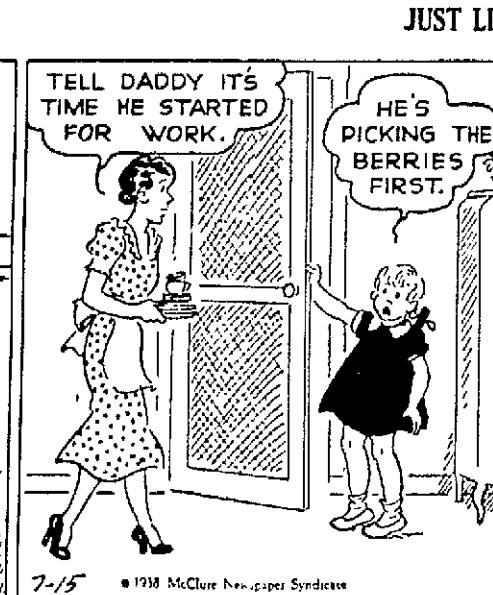

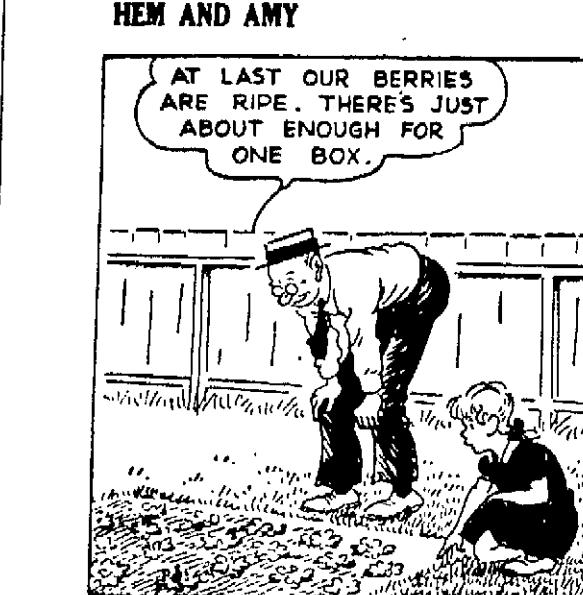

Second—I've got a girl with me who has grown yellow, brown and red-haired in my service.

And then there's the one about the WPA worker who dropped dead of heart failure on the job. When the coroner arrived on the scene he had to examine 25 men before he found the right one.

Tremaine Report On Hardenbergh

Albany, July 15 (Special)—Interest of officials of the town of Hardenbergh, Ulster county, in contracts let by the town, and allowance by the town board of excess mileage rates to "several" officials, are criticised by examiners on the staff of State Comptroller Morris S. Tremaine, who have submitted to the Comptroller a report of a recent examination of the town's finances covering the period from January 1, 1936, to June 30, 1937.

A summary of the report has been prepared by the bureau of municipal accounts, and copies of the report have been forwarded to local officials. The summary contains the following:

"Oaths of office were on file for all officials except one assessor, one constable and the town welfare officer. All official undertakings were on file except for one constable. The examiners call attention to the fact that official undertakings for public school monies and highway monies were required of the supervisor and on file with the county treasurer."

"It appears that the town clerk did not maintain a proper sign indicating the location of his office. The examination of criminal dockets maintained by justices of the peace disclosed but little business transacted, although in one instance the justice had neglected to pay the fine imposed, to the supervisor."

"Following the practice which obtained in some other towns in Ulster county, the town board had levied a lump sum to be credited to the general fund when collected. There is no authority for such levy."

"The examiners call attention to the fact that there is no sub-voucher attached to claims submitted by some of the town officers for postage. One of the outstanding features of the examination consisted of the discovery of a large number of claims in which town officers were interested other than payment of fees or salary or expenses connected with the office which they hold. These accounts consisted of labor performed, supplies furnished, and constituted illegalities under the provisions of section 104 of the town law."

"It was also noted that an excess mileage rate had been allowed by the town board as several officials were allowed eight cents a mile, whereas the statutory rate is six cents per mile."

"Also in criminal matters, the rate is now 8 cents per mile, whereas a former rate of 15 cents per mile had been allowed."

"Claims of the supervisor, while not large in amount, had been allowed, for which no statutory authority existed."

"In criminal matters, the peace rendered a claim for filing reports made to the department of correction. There is no statutory authority for this allowance."

"The town clerk had confused the authority to charge for the preparation of reports made in connection with the issuance of licenses, whereas the license fee paid by the licensee is presumed to cover his compensation. It appears to have been the practice of the town clerk to render claims for services performed in connection with highway matters on a per diem basis whereas the statute requires that a lump sum be fixed for services in this connection."

"School directors had submitted claims which were audited and allowed that were in excess of the rate fixed by section 382 of the education law."

Cabinet System the Idea Of President Washington

President Washington practically created the cabinet system, which was not provided for in the Constitution, although that document made provision for the division of administrative duties into various departments, the heads of which should be required to make reports of the activities of their departments to the chief executive, notes a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The administrative branches originally were three—the departments of state, treasury and war. Early in his presidency, Washington instituted an advisory council of the three department heads. This was the beginning of the cabinet meetings, which have been held ever since.

An officer called the attorney general was a part of the government from the beginning, but he was originally an adjunct of the judiciary, to be prosecutor for the national government and counsel to the President and department heads on matters of law. Washington soon added the attorney general to his advisory council, but it was not until 1870 that this officer was made a cabinet member and the head of the department of justice.

In 1798, incidental to preparations for war with France, the Navy department was created separate from the war department. The postmaster general did not become a cabinet member and head of a separate department until 1829.

In 1849, a number of offices and bureaus previously distributed among the other divisions were combined into the department of the interior. The department of agriculture was set up in 1869, having existed previously as a subordinate branch of the interior department. In 1903 a department of commerce and labor was created, and in 1913, it was divided into two departments.

Opossum Only One Among Animals That 'Act Dead'

There are actors in the animal world. What would you think of a creature that could act so well that it allowed itself to be vigorously beaten without showing the least sign of life?

There have been actual cases recorded of the American opossum lying low while this was done to him, and it is from the habit of this little animal that we get the term "playing possum" which is used when anybody keeps specially quiet and "says nuthin," notes a writer in London Answers Magazine.

Many of the lizards sham death to get out of harm's way, and toads, too, not being endowed by nature for a quick getaway, deflate themselves and assume unnatural shapes to escape trouble.

The African buffalo is another experienced actor. Many an unwary hunter has brought down one of these magnificent beasts, and without taking the precaution of reloading his gun, has approached it thinking it dead. When he got near, the wounded animal has suddenly got to its feet and charged, although it was apparently dead only a moment before.

This is not just an odd case of the buffalo being stunned, for experienced big-game hunters all tell of the same characteristic.

You will not be surprised to hear that monkeys are adepts at lying low when there is trouble around, and even elephants have been known to "act dead."

Edward Crane, law professor at Texas University, hung a shirt out to dry. Next day he found a pair of wrens "keeping house" in a rolled-up sleeve. Crane let the wrens stay there—he even rigged up a canopy to protect them.

WEST BROOK

After being occupied as a summer home for 16 seasons the attractive Knorpp property is being offered for sale due to Mr. R. G. Knorpp's death.

Sunday morning service at the Baptist Community Church was quite well attended.

Mrs. Ida Snyder of Brooklyn is pleasantly spending the summer with her son, Arthur, and family at Trevor Hollow Inn.

Harold Constable of Brodhead Heights is regularly employed Saturday nights as orchestra leader at the popular community dances held at Knappa's hall in Boiceville.

Mrs. Fanny Bolce of Main street entertained Kingston members of her family on Sunday.

Several metropolitan visitors spent the Fourth of July at West Shokan heights.

Mrs. Nettie Merrinow entertained week-end tourists at her attractive Brodhead home from East Rutherford, N. J.

The genial Brodhead postmistress, Mrs. Emma Merrinow, is kept busy with the abundance of community summer mail which includes Camp High Point.

Not Badly Off

Rome, N. Y., July 15 (AP)—The Rev. William T. MacArthur, 76, of Philadelphia, Pa., who admits to himself a proud father, points to what his sons did as evidence that modern young folk are not so badly off. Mr. MacArthur, here for a church meeting, is the father of Charles MacArthur, playwright husband of actress Helen Hayes. Charles MacArthur's two older brothers, their father related, bought a run-down newspaper in Oak Park, Ill., for a few dollars. Charles got a job as a reporter at $9 a week. "Even though it was only $9 a week, Charlie had trouble collecting it. He didn't have enough money to pay the Chinaman for his laundry, so he had to 'borrow' his brother's shirt."

Landmarks Burn

Ephratah, N. Y., July 15 (AP)—Two landmarks more than a century old were destroyed when fire of undetermined origin removed the town hall and the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chauncy Beard. The town hall, originally a schoolhouse and later used as a church, had housed a rural library for ten years. Most of the books burned.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By CLAUDE A. JACOBS

Stocks Were Down Again Thursday

Stocks opened off Thursday, showed a gain during the middle of the day and then, with increased volume toward the close, finished with losses for the day.

Wheat rose when announcement was made, but soon afterward a heavy selling movement started and wheat closed off as much as 3% cents a bushel at the 1928 record crop.

As a result of a breakdown of the German-Brazilian trade pact there is a strong possibility that Brazil may make substantial purchases of locomotive and rail equipment in this country. Relations between Germany and Brazil became strained when Brazil ceased to take German blocked marks, good only for purchase in Germany; then came the Fascist revolt in Brazil and he discovered that Germany was selling Brazilian products in the open market at a huge mark-up. Brazil finding herself undepted in her own natural markets.

June rural retail sales are reported to have been 10 per cent under those for June, 1937, but higher than for any other June since 1929.

May automobile retail financing, totaling $4,917,454, showed a considerable increase over April, but was less than half the figure for May, 1937.

Underwood Typewriter Co. declared 50 cents on common; a similar amount was paid in June. Franklin Fire Insurance authorized the usual extra distribution of 10 cents in addition to regular quarterly of 25 cents. Sun Oil Co. voted regular distributions on both common and preferred. Columbia Pictures Corp. announced regular preferred dividend.

Hudson & Manhattan Railroad has been authorized by the ICC to increase fares on its lines from six to eight cents; the road had asked for 10 cents.

First Steps Taken to Allow For More Ulster Hunting Area

New York, July 15 (AP)—Selected stocks crawled up the recovery ladder in today's market and posted gains of fractions to 2 points at the best.

It was the slowest session in about a month, with the ticker tape frequently slumbering. Transfers were at the rate of approximately 900,000 shares.

Top marks were established in the first hour. Profit selling late, halved extreme advances, although there was no broadening of activity as the session neared the close.

Scantiness of dealings, brokers said, prompted some traders to stand aside.

Bonds and commodities were irregular and foreign securities markets were without rising vigor.

The AAA yesterday made an announcement of mounts it will loan wheat farmers who cooperate in the new farm program.

They range from 70 cents a bushel, rates average close to 60 cents.

Wheat rose when announcement was made, but soon afterward a heavy selling movement started and wheat closed off as much as 3% cents a bushel at the 1928 record crop.

As a result of a breakdown of the German-Brazilian trade pact there is a strong possibility that Brazil may make substantial purchases of locomotive and rail equipment in this country.

Relations between Germany and Brazil became strained when Brazil ceased to take German blocked marks, good only for purchase in Germany; then came the Fascist revolt in Brazil and he discovered that Germany was selling Brazilian products in the open market at a huge mark-up.

Brazil finding herself undepted in her own natural markets.

June rural retail sales are reported to have been 10 per cent under those for June, 1937, but higher than for any other June since 1929.

May automobile retail financing, totaling $4,917,454, showed a considerable increase over April, but was less than half the figure for May, 1937.

Underwood Typewriter Co. declared 50 cents on common; a similar amount was paid in June.

Coffee a Most Flexible Bean Used in Many Ways

The world does move, as proved by the historical fact that once it was necessary to "boilleg" coffee, notably in Mohammedan countries, because it was classified as an intoxicant and banned by religious regulation. The advent of the "coffee house," or "cafe," centers of political, artistic, and social life in many a country of the western world, marked the triumph of science because it had been discovered that coffee was only a mild stimulant, and there is a world of difference between a stimulant and an intoxicant, observes Jessie Marie DeBo in the Boston Globe.

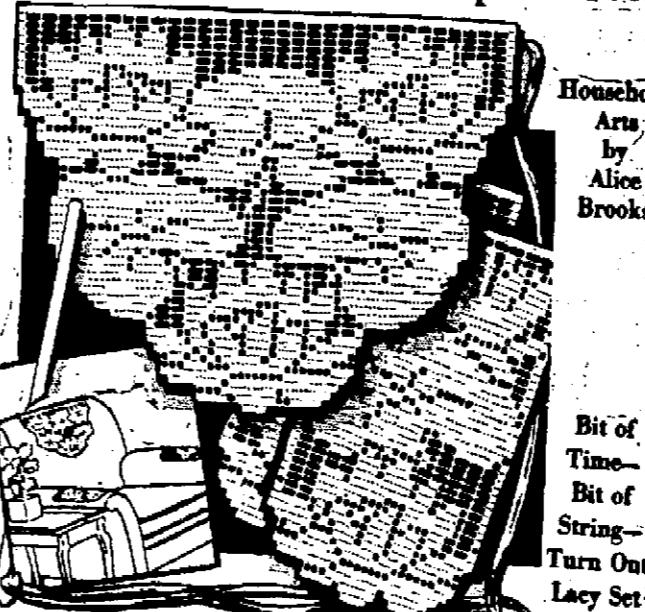

Coffee was not even known to be edible or potable before the Ninth century of the Christian era, and it was not until the middle of the Sixteenth century that the ban against it was permanently removed everywhere in the world. Originally called "cawah," in its Oriental spelling, coffee came by way of Europe into the Baltic sea area, thence into Holland and England, and thence to North America. The western world dominates the coffee trade and ranks high in coffee use.

When we step in to buy our favorite blend, ground to suit our own method of brewing, for just a few cents a pound, it seems hard to realize that when the coffee houses in England first had it coffee cost $20 a pound. Naturally, it was not then a household beverage, and many are the stories written around the meetings of the big-wigs, intelligent and better financed leaders of the day, who gathered in the public coffee houses to discuss the problems of the moment.

Most coffee is blended from a number of different kinds of beans, each with a character of its own. What you like depends upon your personal preference for certain of these characteristics, and there is everything available from the light, mild blend to the heavy, mouth-filling flavor that seems to fill the house with its tantalizing odor.

DAM TO ERASE OLD TOWN OF BOOM DAYS

Pioneer South Dakota Settlement is Doomed.

SHERIDAN, S. D.—Sixty-one years ago Judge Granville G. Bennett tossed his saddlebag on the floor of a log cabin here, neared around the room, and told the assembled frontiersmen that the first district court in the Black Hills was convened.

Next year, though, Judge Bennett's courtroom will be under 20 feet of water—and so will the rest of Sheridan.

Once it was the county seat of Pennington county; once it was the location of the United States land office; once it was the headquarters for South Dakota miners, and once it was the town where men came simply to spend money. It was a true boom town.

But now the Rapid City-Hill City Izaak Walton league and the Harvey national forest have made all necessary arrangements, and Sheridan is going to be flooded.

A dam site to flood the entire valley has been located in the national forest. The forest service will build the dam. Arrangements are being made to buy the land which will be flooded, and more than 150 acres have already been purchased. Options have been obtained on the majority of the un-purchased land.

The lake created by the dam will fill the entire valley covering nearly 400 acres to an average depth of 60 feet. It will be filled by Spring creek, Horse creek and other small streams, draining a territory of 150 square miles.

The Izaak Walton league plans to develop a resort around the lake. Present plans call for construction of a lodge, leasing summer homes, and installing facilities for all kinds of water sports.

Tin-Can Mail for Isle
During Hurricane Season

LONDON.—The strangest postman in the world is in London on a holiday. He is Charles Stuart Ramsay, manager of the trading station at Niua Fo'ou, rocky South Sea island.

During six months of every year in the hurricane season, Niua with its population of 1,200 natives and three whites is cut off from the outside world, as no ship can approach its rocky slopes. Eleven years ago, Ramsay, an excellent swimmer, arranged that a monthly tourist steamer plying between New Zealand and Fiji stop long enough at the island to drop mail overboard sealed in tin cans and receive another can from the shore. So every month Ramsay, with two native companions, swam out to the ship through hurricane seas, carrying the outgoing mail tied to sticks of bamboo, deposited it in a bucket dangling from the ship's side and returned with the precious tin can of mail for the islanders.

Youngster Claims to Have Made Artificial Radium

JERSEY CITY, N. J.—If sixteen year-old Wallace L. Minto Jr. has what he claims to have science soon will be worshiping at his feet much as it has bowed down to Mine Curie. For Minto claims to be able to produce artificial radium from cheap ore at a cost of about one-hundredth the genuine product.

How he does it is a highly technical story, but production of his artificial radium is based on discovery of four new elements he claims to have discovered.

That his claims are being given serious consideration is indicated by the fact that he has been invited to address the Eastern Electronic Research association and to demonstrate his experiments.

Doctor Offers Advice to People Who Read in Bed

ALBANY, N. Y.—Reading in bed, rather than being injurious to the eyes, may prove beneficial.

Dr. J. F. Morrow, member of the American Optical company's bureau of visual science, said in an address here that bed reading can be relaxing to the eyes because the eyes are used at a different angle from the one employed in office or classroom work.

He offered the following rules to govern bed reading:

Have adequate illumination; do not slouch in bed; incline the head forward slightly; rest reading material on a surface 16 to 20 inches from the eyes, rest the eyes occasionally.

Chemists Toot Horns to Help in Fusing Metals

BERLIN.—Some German chemists are blowing automobile horns since they discovered that sound help to fuse different metals into lightweight alloys.

The discovery was made by Drs. Masing and Ritzow, who for months vainly had tried to blend lead and aluminum to produce a substitute for bronze. When they tried blowing automobile horns while mixing the metals they found the sound waves acted to drive out the finely distributed gases which hitherto prevented the metals from fusing.

Ultrasound sound waves which are inaudible to the human ear are now being used.

Coyote Chorus

Buffalo, N. Y., July 15 (UPI)—Park Commissioner Andrew S. Butler has discovered the inspiration that impels coyotes in the park to sing in chorus twice daily. Butler said their "song" starts when the bells of St. Mark's Church begin tolling at noon and 6 p. m. daily and they continue to sing until the bells stop.

thing," Hughes commented, "that I didn't try to fly out of Yakutat at night."

Praises Wiley Post

He had smashed Wiley Post's record utterly, but he showed no elation or sense of triumph.

"Some people," said Hughes thoughtfully, "believe that there have been other flights which were more important, but air pilots know that Wiley Post's feat was the greatest of them all."

Even as he returned to New York from the greatest of all aerial expeditions—an expedition over a 14,824-mile circuit in about the time required for a long weekend in the country—romantic rumors arose again linking Hughes with Katharine Hepburn, the actress, but if he had seen her at all nobody, but the principals knew it.

For these matters, he had no word, but he had praise for every man who made the epic effort with him—for Navigator Tom Thurlow, for Flight Officer Ed Lund, for Navigating Officer Harry Connor, for Radio Engineer Dick Stoddart.

Romance for Aides

For these, his lieutenants, there appeared to be more romance at the end of the journey than for Hughes himself.

Rosemary Stoddart kissed her husband and said, "Thank God, you're back."

Tom Thurlow cried from an embrace "Oh, Tommy."

Mrs. Connor was too excited to say anything except "Oh, hello! Ellene Hoaglund, Ed Lund's friend, fainted, too soon."

She had stood patiently with the great throng, but two hours before the fliers arrived she collapsed, and so she missed the last thrill of the night—the homecoming of the great ship through the gray upper air over Floyd Bennett Field.

Water Rent Due

The office of the city water department will remain open Saturday afternoon until 4 o'clock for the convenience of those who want to pay their water rent.

More than 13,500,000 trees were planted in New York State's 1938 reforestation program.

Perfetti-Morrow in Double Main with Smith-Marchese At Auditorium Tonight

The stage is set for tonight's fight program at the municipal auditorium, featuring the double main, one bout bringing together two star bantamweights and the other two heavyweight champs.

Dom Perfetti, the Amsterdam boy who won the national bantamweight title in Boston, is matched with Jimmy Morrow, 118 pounder from the Catholic Youth Organization in New York, a boy who started in the Golden Gloves tournament.

Perfetti is a favorite here, having defeated some top notchers, including Harry Gains, a protege of Ben Jeph, former light heavyweight champion of the world.

Morrow has not boxed in Kingston since he stepped out of his class several months ago to fight Mario Severino, a featherweight.

On that occasion he made a hit, and is expected to have a large number of rooters tonight.

In addition to the attraction between the bantam flashes, the two heavyweights slated to battle are champions and each is eager to win. Their duel should be a real slugfest.

Bon Marchese won the title in the heavy class while he was with the U. S. Infantry in the Hawaiian Islands, being a member of the same team with Vince Semperino, one of the classiest welterweights that ever came out of the kaki clad ranks.

"Wait'll you see this fellow hit," said Semperino when Marchese accepted the match.

Bobby Smith, the New Yorker matched with Marchese, won the Golden Gloves title in the 1935 pound class, mainly by his ability to punch.

"Smitty will give Marchese plenty to keep him busy," said George Gainford, well known New York trainer of fighters.

Besides the double feature on top of the bill tonight, the supporting card looks attractive with the array of scrapers dated up to slug it out at the auditorium.

Five Rounds

Monk Armstrong, Kingston, vs. Chief Costanza, Mechanicville middleweight, who holds a knockout over him. Armstrong says he'll turn the tables tonight.

Cliff Leger, Mohawk Indian, vs. Jack Savino, stablemate of the two New York stars in the feature scraps.

Prelims

Buddy Ackerman, Saugerties, vs. Roy Young, Albany.

Hank Bunc, Kingston lightweight, vs. Danny Johnson, Albany.

George Leonard, local featherweight, vs. Carlo Litz, Albany.

Starting time of the first bout is 8 o'clock.

Joneses Play Closis Tonight In City League

This evening at 6:30 o'clock, the City Baseball League schedule resumes with the Jones Dairies playing the Closis A. C.

Toddy Uhl or Julius Chick will pitch for the Joneses and Earl "Red" Sleight for the clan piloted by Gus Steigerwald.

The Joneses will make a strong bid for victory, as they have a mathematical chance of taking the first half honors. "We have suffered several hard luck defeats, but we're going in for blood to night," said Manager Steigerwald, who wants his Closis to win.

James Montgomery Flagg, American illustrator, published his first cartoon at the age of 14.

Tommy Zano and Melio Bettina Box in Poughkeepsie July 26

Zano vs. Maser

Tommy Zano is matched with Vince Maser for a special six round bout on the professional boxing card in Woodlawn Park, Poughkeepsie, Tuesday night, July 26.

The local welterweight who has had trouble getting matches around the metropolis, because he hits too hard for the four round prelim boys, will do the six round route for the first time against Maser.

"This kid they're putting in with Tommy is no easy mark," said Charlie Roosa, manager of the former Glasco amateur star, "but Zano is not worried. He's ready to take on any of the six round fighters and hold up his end of the bargain."

Zano has been training at the Y. M. C. A. for his fights. He's always in perfect physical condition and with some boxing in his routine with the right kind of sparring should be ready to give a good account of himself.

Roosa said today that he contemplated sending to New York for a boxer or two to work out with Tommy to give him the sort of experience he needs for the Maser scrap.

Eddie Steele of Poughkeepsie, another boy who boxed at the auditorium as an amateur, will be on the July 26 card, having turned pro last week.

Grove Goes to Hospital But Boston Wallops Tigers, 12-1

By SID FEDER

Associated Press Sports Writer They had Lefty Grove in a hospital today with a "dead arm," and the rumor started the rounds that Old Mose may not pitch any more this year.

Of course, there's no definite word yet that the greatest southpaw of his generation is on the shelf, and first reports from physicians indicated things may not be as bad as at first suspected.

Grove, with his fast one gone but his pitching "brains" working better than ever, seemed headed for one of the greatest campaigns in his 14-year career. Yesterday's 12-1 wallop of the Boston Red Sox handed the Detroit Tigers the portside's 14th win of the season, even though Jackie Wilson had to finish.

It was positively weird the way it happened yesterday. There was Lefty, going along great, tossing shutout ball. All of a sudden, in the fifth inning, his salary wing folded. There was no muscular reaction. He couldn't even grip the ball.

Physicians wouldn't even hazard an opinion until, as they explained, they completed long diagnosis and extensive X-ray examination.

Giants Lose

The unfortunate collapse of Lefty's arm was the top development of a big league program that saw the Pittsburgh Pirates pull half-a-game in front of the Giants in the National League race, and the Yankees remain at the head of the American League flag chase.

The Pirates won out 3-2 in the 11th inning over the Dodgers. The Giants dropped a 1-0 decision to the Cincinnati Reds, with a pair of errors producing the only run in their third straight defeat.

Shortly afterward, Manager Bill Terry announced indefinite suspension, without pay, for his No. 1 catcher, Harry Danning, who has been ailing several days. Although Terry said it was for breaking training, mystery surrounded the whole business.

The Yanks took a 5-4 victory over the St. Louis Browns in a game cut to seven innings by rain. There was no change in the standings, however, since Cleveland whipped the Washington Senators, 5-1.

The Cubs clouted the Phillies twice, 3-0 and 5-1. The Boston Bees trampled the Cardinals 10-3. The White Sox topped the Athletics, 9-8.

Comforters Schedule Two Games Next Week

The Reformed Church of the Comforter softball team has two games on its schedule for next week. Tuesday evening, July 19, the boys from Wynkoop Place will clash with Port Ewen, and Thursday evening, July 21, they meet the Presbyterians. Both games will be played at Loughran Park, starting at 6:30 o'clock. To date the Comforters have lost only two games, one to Clinton Avenue, and one to Presbyterian, and are occupying second place in the Church League.

Rhymer Ready for Woodstock Races Looks Like Finns Will Get Olympics

New York, July 15 (AP)—Now that Japan has tossed in the towel, the 1940 Olympic games are almost certain to be conducted in Helsinki, Finland.

The site, if approved by the International Olympic Committee at a special meeting to be called by its president, Count Henri Delaunay of Belgium, will supply in great quantities the bucolic simplicity that the Olympic folks have been wanting to get back to.

When the Finns originally bid for the 1940 games, and lost out to Japan, their big talking point was the promise that they wouldn't spoil the boys with elegant surroundings.

Helsinki has only three or four first class hotels to accommodate the visiting committee men, sports writers and spectators who will be drawn by the event.

As they are known to be cautious with their money, the Finns undoubtedly will do a minimum of permanent building for the games. They can get by with a stadium, a swimming pool and an auditorium for the indoor events.

Ichiro Sawada, American representative of the Japanese Olympic committee here, had not yet received official notification that Japan was relinquishing the games, but was resigned to the loss.

55 Boys Learn To Swim at "Y"

The learn to swim campaign at the Y. M. C. A. is ended and out of 69 boys who started the course, 55 can swim the width of the pool, 20 feet.

Going into detail about the course, Chuck Henke, physical director, who conducted the course, said that 20 of the new swimmers passed the test given by the Red Cross for beginners.

These boys can jump off the springboard at the deep end of the pool, swim the length of it and back. This is a 50-foot swim.

With the exception of 14 youngsters, some of whom are afraid of water, and require a longer time, all of the boys who began the course can swim at least 20 feet.

The learn to swim campaign started the latter part of June and each boy had the opportunity of instruction for six lessons. However, only 27 showed up for all of the classes. The record kept at the pool follows:

All lessons, 27; 16 for five; nine for four; seven for three; five for two and five for one. The total is 69 boys.

The average age of boys who took the course was 11. Director Henke said. He added about the weak swimmers: "Parents should encourage the boys to play in water under supervision until they have adjusted themselves."

Kiwanis to Play Lions' Ball Club Thursday Night

Twelve Kingston Kiwanians were greeted Thursday at the weekly luncheon at the Governor Clinton and congratulated on their 100 per cent attendance for a period of six months from January 1 to June 30. President Paul Zucca announced the perfect score had been attained by Pratt Dolce, William B. Byrne, R. Frederick Chidsey, Harry S. Ensign, Eugene A. Freer, Raymond R. Gross, George B. Matthews, George R. Holmdel, Robert J. Service, Charles Snyder, Joseph F. Stout and Paul A. Zucca.

Lauterbach investigated and later wrote that he believed the submarine was the U-62 commanded by Lieutenant Commander Hashagen.

However, there was no way to find the present address of Hashagen.

Then Lowell Thomas' war book came out giving an index of nearly all the German undersea raiders, including the U-62, and Sproles wrote him for Hashagen's address which was sent.

Several letters were sent and a long time elapsed before Hashagen replied, stating that it was not his submarine that had sunk the Joseph Cudahy.

Sproles then applied to the German consul at San Francisco, but without success.

First Concrete Crew.

Undismayed, Sproles then applied to the American consul at Berlin and this finally brought a reply from the German reichskriegsmarinesturm, stating that the submarine which sank the Joseph Cudahy was the U-90, commanded by Senior Lieutenant Patzig, whose initials and address were unknown.

With this concrete crew, Sproles then checked again with Lowell Thomas' records only to find that it was precisely the submarines numbered from 88 to 93 on which it had been impossible to obtain information. What happened to U-90 is still a mystery.

Sproles, however, still is convinced that somewhere there must exist a picture of the U-90 and some information about Lieutenant Patzig, its commander. This he is now trying to have traced down by a cousin who is in the American consular service in Russia.

So Sproles still awaits optimistically the day when he will know something about the man who torpedoed him and the one big mystery of his life will be solved.

Expenses at University

Are Paid by 6,000 Hens

BOSTON.—Six thousand hens are paying Robert Pence's way through college.

The Boston university sophomore is paying tuition and living expenses by selling eggs which the hens lay at his Marion (Ind.) farm.

On arrival at the Hub college, the husky Indiana youth began an egg-salad campaign in the potential market he saw in numerous hotels and restaurants around Copley square here.

He formed a corporation which includes Gary Famigletti, the ace halfback of last season's Terrier football squad, and Irwin Kopecky, another B. U. gridiron star.

Famigletti delivers eggs to local customers and Kopecky is the salesman.
